Introduction

About The Author – Psychic Robert Jerome

My name Psychic Robert Jerome and I go by Bob. I live in Phoenix, Arizona. Throughout my life, I have always been fascinated by psychics and tarot cards. I just never thought I was able to ‘hear’ or teach until my mentor reader Brenda Fulkerson told me to go and get a deck to see what happens. She told me that I was psychic and that I just had to believe. It was that conversation in early 2013 which started me on this path. I am so grateful. I have met so many wonderful people. My biggest joy is seeing the looks on people’s faces when I share something specific from Spirit that there is no way I could have known.

In this, my first eBook, I am answering a question I get asked nearly every day: “When will I meet my soulmate?” I have done many, many readings on this topic. But the reading featured in this book is different. It isn’t for just one specific person. It is for anyone and everyone who seeks to have a deeper connection with themselves and ultimately share that connection with someone else.

This eBook started as a blog post on my website PsychicRobertJerome.com. What started as one entry turned into three and now into this eBook. The posts and this book were written by my guides. I didn’t edit what they said as I typed it or in the editing process of this book. Therefore, you will see the words ‘we’ and ‘us’. I interpret the ‘we’ as my guides. I have asked them for a name and I have been told they like ‘Jerry’. So Jerry it is.

If what they say in this eBook rings true for you, then perhaps a more personal message would be more helpful. I offer many packages such as my relationship reality series along with many other choices on my website PsychicRobertJerome.com.

Thank you in advance for your time reading this material and I look forward to any feedback you may have. Drop me a line at Bob@psychicrobertjerome.com.

The Decks

Creating the Message

There are clearly many ways to use the Tarot to find a soulmate or give perspective on other areas of your life. As I began to prepare for this message, I was drawn to three of my favorite decks:

The Ryder Waite

The Ryder Waite deck was created by A. E. Waite, a spiritual seeker and mystic who supported himself with freelance translation and writing. In 1909, he created the Rider Waite Tarot in collaboration with Pamela Colman Smith, and wrote the accompanying book, The Pictorial Key to Tarot (PKT). This deck is the ‘industry standard’ because of simple images which are filled with many symbols. Drawing cards from this deck always tells a unique story.

Doreen Virtue’s “Angel Therapy” Oracle Cards

The second row comes from Doreen Virtue’s “Angel Therapy” Oracle Cards. This deck is filled with specific, higher level messages from the Angels that surround all of us. These Angels are ready to help at a moment’s notice yet they do not get involved unless they are asked. In this reading, you will see how they are calling upon us to take just a few easy steps to get the love and the abundance we all wish for.

Doreen Virtue’s “Daily Guidance from Your Angels” Oracle Cards

Finally, my guides selected cards from Doreen Virtue’s “Daily Guidance from Your Angels” Oracle Cards. Unlike the other Angel Therapy cards, these cards offer daily reminders or suggestions on how to lead a more abundant life.

By combining messages from all three decks, I believe you will find a very specific plan that could help you reach your ultimate goal... finding your soulmate.

The Spread

Answering the Question – Using Tarot to Find a Soulmate

After I drew the cards, my guides suggested that instead of reading each deck or row individually, I should consider reading each column for a combined message. The first column speaks about preparing, the middle on how to get started and the right column is about continuing the process.

Preparing – The First Column

Seven of Swords – Be Willing to Forgive – Play

The Seven of Swords is about escaping but being caught. In this case, we say that those looking for a soulmate sometime 'escape' or end a relationship too early before they learn the necessary lesson. They end the relationship because it isn't working instead of trying to find a solution or see if there is an underlying issue that can be resolved.

For those hard-headed souls and you know who you are, trying to escape before the time is right will not get you what you truly want. So in this case, to get what you want, we want you to ask your angels, guides and intuition if you have learned the right lesson. The "right" lesson would be something that you need to take from your current relationship and apply it to all future relationships. Moving forward could be staying in your current relationship to learn more about what is important to you in terms of communication and love. It could also be 'breaking up'. The choice is ultimately always yours. We say you can move forward without getting caught, but you must be true to your soul and true to your heart first. With no soul or as we say without listening to us through your intuition, it will not work. We will make sure you always get caught. There will be more drama than what you expect. There will be more tears and pain. Yes we know that breaking up is not easy. But we also know that when it is 'right', it tends to be less painful and will soon after become an important lesson. We want you to have that lesson. So your first step is to become true to yourself, not to just bail out when the waters get rough. Go through this process in the relationships you have now. Being more open, more intuitive and more honest will help you start manifesting what you truly want from life.

"Be Willing to Forgive"

so say the Angels. Releasing the past is part of the key to finding soulmate success. This Angel card suggests you ask the Angels to clear your mind and body of past pain in exchange for peacefulness. Being clear of the pain, being open, being available... These are the keys we see for you to find that soulmate or at least be prepared for it. How many times have we seen people who say they are ready, but truly inside they are just not?

They are not asking the right questions. They are scared. They are addicted. They feel the soulmate is a safety need. This is not true. The soulmate is none of these things. The soulmate is our own light energy coming back to us through you. How can it get there if you are blocking it with the pain from the lessons from the past? We know that pain is never a choice but we also know that without it people would not know what good is... what love is. Therefore we ask that you follow our directions closely here. Release the past. Ask for forgiveness. Clear yourself. There must be room for this new love, this new light to come into your soul.

Finally, there is "Play". This card is about just what it says... allowing yourself to play. The Angels say worrying about the soulmate makes the worry grow... not the attraction that is necessary. In order to start the attraction and bring the soulmate, one must be clear, one must be honest with themselves, one must have a sense of innocence and, perhaps most importantly, a sense of appreciation.

The Bottom Line

My guides say relax. Do the healing. Do the necessary forgiving. This will start the cycle. It is a cycle that starts the attraction of your soulmate.

Getting Started – The Second Column

The Page of Pentacles – Dealing Away Addictions – Joy

The Page of Pentacles is about manifesting what your heart desires. In this card we see the character standing, staring at his coin. He is in an open field, he is surrounded by peace. He has created the peace around him my guides talked about in the first column. He is standing on a mountain, away from his village and away from the things that held him back in his past. He has worked to learn and release the lessons from previous relationships. He is ready to take the next step. He is manifesting what he wants next in life. It could be more wealth or it could be love or it could a relationship. Basically it could be anything. Whatever it is you want from your guides, this is this is the time to summon them and ask for their assistance. You have done the preparation work. Now is the time to start doing the manifesting work.

With every life-changing project we undertake, there is always work that needs to be done to clear the soul, to clear the spirit, to make it happen. In this case, my guides ask that you work on Dealing Away Addictions. This card states it is time to let go of the behaviors that are blocking you heart's desire. The guides asked you to identify to us what you desire with the last card. Now we are asking you to stop blocking us from delivering.

What is it that you do which is preventing this love, this connection, this light from coming your way? It is using alcohol? Is it being shy or mean? If you are unsure, ask your guide. He or she will tell you. There may not be anything. But only you and your guides will know. Ask them at night prior to sleeping. They will answer in your dreams or in your imagination. Ask them to help heal you. Perhaps there is nothing specific that comes to mind. Then ask us for general healing. This general healing could be just a wave of calmness and kindness that overtakes your spirit. This will make you ready for the soulmate. This will start the signal that you are ready. The other being will sense this signal. It may not be a conscious thing and that does not matter. What does matter is that you are working to wash away the negativity from the past that has held you back. And... As always, remember to be gentle on yourself. The guides are not asking for a harsh ultimatum or a harsh change. They are just asking for a gentle moving of your spirit and soul in a new direction. It is a direction of peace and prosperity and of love. You will know when it comes your way.

This brings us to the last card which is Joy. Our guides want this to be a mission of joy. This is not a mission of work per say. This is one where your heart leads you forward. This is one where you send out the attraction vibe that brings the other beings closer to you. As this card states, joy allows you to attract and create your present and future moments at their highest possible level. This is what we want for you. This is what we know you want. Remember you must ask us to continue to help you. The easiest way is perhaps allowing more joy into your life. This joy will make you more grateful. The more grateful, the more we can interact.

The Bottom Line

If you have followed the steps we have revealed so far, you have cleaned your aura, you are making peace with the pain of the past. You are wiping the slate clean and bringing fun and joy into your life. It is this fun and joy that will create the adventure you seek.

Being Grateful – The Third Column

Temperance – “Have You Asked Your Angels for Help?” - Acceptance

Now it is time to be thankful for whatever has happened and is happening. Even if it is not what you expected or even if nothing seems to have happened, the truth of the matter is that you have already changed your karmic message by doing the work we have suggested. You have stepped away from your past. You are bringing in new light and new energy.

And now, as the Temperance card suggests, it is a time to remember to exercise self-control and practice. It is a time to be patient and know that what you are creating for yourself will create a new balance in your life. It is a time for being grateful for whatever has happened. Whether you start meeting many potential dates or whether 'the one' comes into your life now, it does not matter. What does matter is that you are being true to yourself. You are open to new experiences. You are ready to learn. You are ready to connect with someone on a level like never before. You are now manifesting what your heart truly desires.

The next card from my Angel card deck continues this theme. How interesting that the card which popped out of the deck says "Have you asked your Angels for help with this?" Asking for help could be considered another way of being grateful. By asking, you are connecting with that white light energy which surrounds us all. Asking is a way of showing respect perhaps for the guidance around us. It is a way to saying we are grateful for their support and now we wish they will act on our behalf which they will. My guides feel very strongly about this connection and remind me of being grateful all the time.

The last card in this series says "Acceptance". Interesting. It is time to accept what has happened and more importantly, the work you have done to get this far. Accepting yourself with all of your flaws and unique qualities is a way of also being grateful. It is a way of saying to yourself and to the world that you are fine, just the way you are. There is nothing more beautiful than your soul and now is the time you are finally ready to share it with others in a new, unique way.

It is this sharing of your true self that will bring your soulmate to you. It will bring the right people around you. These people will love and respect you for who you truly are. They are not interested in any facades or anything that is not real. They just want to be with you.

For many of us it is hard to understand why people would want to be with us. It is those limiting beliefs that are what held you back in the past. It is time to release them.

Summing It All Up

A review of all of the cards shows that the key message is 'release the past so you can concentrate on the future.' The guidance here is about your future and what you can or have already done to make it the way you want it to. It does not have to be a rehash of the past. These cards are about learning from our mistakes, forgiving and moving on.

This process is always going on within and around us. We are always changing. We are always learning something new either about ourselves or about others around us. In this reading, my guides tell me that this message of love was about just that. Sharing love. In order to find the soulmate one must first learn to share themselves unconditionally. No conditions. So it can never be 'do this for me and I will do this for you'. Whatever you do must come naturally and as a gift. It is these gifts we give ourselves and others that bring abundance to our lives. Part of that abundance for many people is a soulmate or life partner. I hope that in this short eBook you have received many messages about what needs to happen in your life to bring you what you truly desire.
